Garbage spreads to newer areas

Tractors dump waste daily near Lalitha Mahal Palace, opposite JSS Ayurveda College

Mysuru, May 29 (BCT)- At a time when there are talks to expand the jurisdiction of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to include several villages on the city outskirts and upgrade the Civic Body into a 'Bruhat Mysuru Mahanagara Palike' or 'Greater Mysuru', waste is being continuously dumped to newer areas.

Several residents of Prithvi Layout, near Lalitha Mahal Palace, opposite JSS Ayurveda College, have complained to Star of Mysore that since a month or so, their area has been a dumping place for garbage. This was not the scene before and the locality was considerably clean but gone worse now.

"This is a relatively new area when compared to other developed ones in the surroundings of Alanahalli. Since one month or so, we have seen loads of garbage being dumped here every other day," said P. Sudhakara Reddy, who is building a new house in the locality.

The entire surroundings where even doctors from JSS Ayurveda College reside and are planning to build houses have also turned into a dump-yard. "These tractors are owned by MCC and private garbage contractors. They regularly dump waste here instead of transporting them to dedicated segregation areas and solid waste management plants. Unfortunately, MCC issues warning to people not to dump garbage on Ring Road," Reddy added.

Other residents said that they had personally visited the MCC Office many times to complain about the garbage dump but the officers there shirked off their responsibilities. "They told us that the area does not belong to MCC but Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA). What are we supposed to do? The area stinks and is a breeding ground for mosquitoes," said Ramnarayan, a Govt. employee.

There is a Varuna water channel that flows in Alanahalli and garbage is dumped even there. "Unfortunately, many office-goers throw plastic waste bags here on their way to their offices. They come in cars and two-wheelers and throw waste," said residents.

Though this is not the official Yoga rehearsal, the Yoga Federation of Mysore is organising mass Yoga every Sunday at various locations to draw more and more people for the June 21 mega event. First rehearsal under the banner of Yoga Federation of Mysore was conducted at Maharaja College Grounds last week. The official rehearsals will happen after the official communication from the Government.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Each of these victories (Saina's, Sindhu's etc.,) was very important but the Thomas Cup victory is an icing on the cake. In some sense, each of these earlier wins contributed to this new success and ensured that we built a system where the players thrived. The depth in the singles, doubles and men's teams is really scaring the other nations.

It is heartening that this victory is being compared to the 1983 triumph of the cricket team. This win will give a big boost to the sport. I am sure it will inspire a whole generation of people to start believing in themselves and take up this sport. But I don't think any sport in the country is comparable with cricket in popularity.

Having said that, I am happy with the win. Things have progressed and with the kind of support we received from the Government and the way Badminton Association of India (BAI) has made this game popular, I am sure we will be able to capitalise on this victory. I think there is a huge amount of talent in the country but because of COVID there have been no junior level events. It has deprived youngsters of the opportunities to climb up the ranks. But with normalcy returning, I am sure we will see a lot of players making a mark. It is now up to us to streamline the coaching, streamline the tournament structure, and ensure that we produce solid results.

A win of this magnitude will make people talk about India as a powerhouse. But I think a lot more work needs to be done. We need depth in many departments and we need structure in several areas to ensure that we maximise the potential of the players. There is also a lot of scope for improvement. I think the possibility of producing bigger results and better players is a very exciting phase of Indian badminton.

That is the most painful, even the baby toes, the nail beds hurt a lot. I sneezed up black ink for about 20 minutes after that and it was the most painful thing I'd ever been through." Matt got his first tattoo in 1985 and since then has even tattooed his tongue and eyeballs which he said was "very painful."

1,369 people don vampire costumes

England: A group of 1,369 people in vampire costumes gathered at a 13th century abbey in England to celebrate the 125th anniversary of Bram Stoker's Dracula and break a Guinness World Record.

English Heritage, which manages more than 400 cultural sites in the country, said its Thursday record attempt at Whitby Abbey was officially declared a new Guinness World Record for largest gathering of people dressed as vampires.

The group had aimed for 1,897 vampires in honour of the May 26, 1897, publication date of the classic novel, but the 1,369 people who gathered Thursday were enough to break the Guinness Record of 1,039 people, set in Virginia in 2011.

The record attempt, coinciding with World Dracula Day, was held at Whitby Abbey, where the Gothic architecture served as inspiration for Stoker's story.

More on Birth and Death Certificates

Sir,

This refers to the news item titled "Birth or Death, No Certificates..." in Star of Mysore dated May 25. I had applied for Death Certificate of my wife several months ago at the Office of Births and Deaths in Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Head Office.

I was disappointed to get the Death Certificate printed on a plain white bond paper. There was no special, beautifully decorated, pre-printed good quality paper with the information laser printed.

Instead of going to the Zonal Offices, it is better to go to the MCC Head Office and apply for the Certificate, it is faster and more efficient. I hope, henceforth, the Certificates are issued on good quality pre-printed designed border on to which the Birth or Death Certificates are laser printed.

One issue that is lacking at the Births and Deaths Office is the facility to correct the spelling or to make a name correction. I think this can be accomplished if the Aadhaar copy of the deceased is provided by the Hospital or the family at the time of death (of course it is not necessary to give all 12 numbers of the Aadhaar Card, just the last four in this format XXXX XXXX 1234 is sufficient). This way the name of the deceased and the spouse is spelt correctly as per the Aadhaar card of both the deceased and the spouse.

On Birth Certificates, both parents' Aadhaar Cards are to be referenced for exact spelling, this will avoid any problems at a later date.

WORLD NO TOBACCO DAY
World No Tobacco Day, observed on May 31, this year WHO informs the public on dangers of using tobacco, business practices of tobacco companies & what public can do to claim their right to health, & healthy living and to protect their future generations. This year's theme is 'Tobacco - threat to our Environment.' Tobacco is killing us and our planet. Not just cigarette smoking, consuming tobacco in any form is injurious to health. Cigarette smoke contains almost 5000 chemicals including tar, carbon monoxide, methane, arsenic, ammonia, almost 50 of them proven to be carcinogenic, that causes cancer. Even second-hand smoke, i.e., air exhaled after smoking also is a proven carcinogen and cancers of mouth, tongue, throat, lungs, pancreas, GIT, reproductive tract can develop in both men & women. Also, the harmful effects of smoking are more devastating in women who smoke, causing problems in menstruation, infertility, if pregnant, increased risk of miscarriage, low birth weight babies. Household women & children exposed to smoking develop lung problems like asthma, chronic bronchitis, growth retardation & reduced immunity. Campaign to raise awareness on environmental impact of tobacco - from cultivation, production, distribution & waste is important among the masses.

KLSA Chairman Justice Veerappa pays surprise visit to Mysuru Jail

High Court Judge Justice B. Veerappa seen receiving petitions from jail inmates during his visit to Mysuru Central Prison yesterday. Picture right shows the Justice tasting the food cooked for the inmates as Jail Superintendent K.C. Divyashree and others look on.

Mysuru, May 29 (SBD&DM)- High Court Judge Justice B. Veerappa, who is also the Chairman of Karnataka Legal Services Authority (KLSA), paid a surprise visit to Mysuru Central Prison for an inspection yesterday.

Upon his arrival, the Judge went around the jail premises inspecting the Women Prisoners Section, Hospital Section, Tower Section, Kitchen, Store room, CCTV Control Room and other sections for about an hour and a half.

Justice Veerappa later sat on a stone bench at the Tower Section and received petitions from the prisoners.

The Judge who tasted food, gave some suggestions on making Sambar more tasty, after which he went near CCTV room and asked the authorities to play a song from Dr. Rajkumar starrer super hit movie 'Gandhada Gudi', with the help of a mike set.

Upon visiting the Hospital Section, Judge Veerappa saw repairs being done to the storm water drain, where he advised the prisoners doing masonry works, on doing the job in a proper manner. He himself held a 'Karni' and showed how the drain way must have a slope and how cement plastering should be done for it.

Later, Justice Veerappa interacted with the prisoners and questioned them about their jail terms. While one prisoner said he had landed in Jail as he does not have money for payment of alimony to his estranged wife, another convict said he is not getting parole even after spending five years in Jail.

When an under-trial sought permission for having food brought from his mother atleast once a week, the Judge replied that it cannot be done as this benefit must also be extended to all other prisoners. Another prisoner who is jailed for dacoity, told the Judge that he has not been able to get a bail even after two and half years.

Jail Superintendent K.C. Divyashree said that prisoners are not being let out on parole for more than six years now as the Police reports are not in favour. The parole applications of more than 50 long serving prisoners have been rejected more than three times, for want of positive Police reports, she added.

Meanwhile, in an interesting incident that took place at the Hospital Section, a prisoner asked the Judge whether he can ask for his identity. Responding calmly, Justice Veerappa introduced himself as the Chairman of KLSA. Justice Veerappa questioned the prisoner on the nature of his crime, when he said he was jailed in a minor case and he has failed to get bail even after six months. He also complained that he has so far not got acknowledgements for his complaints, to which the Judge said that he would look into the matter.

In another interesting incident, Justice Veerappa enquired about an Iraqi national prisoner. Upon learning that the Iraqi national had landed in Jail for illegal stay in India, he directed Jail Superintendent Divyashree to inform the matter to the concerned embassy. Divyashree said that all the documents pertaining to the Iraqi national could not be presented to the Court as they are in the room in which he stayed. Justice Veerappa advised her to get Court clearance and get the documents with the help of the jurisdictional Police and submit the same to the Court. Upon hearing the Judge's suggestions, the Iraqi prisoner thanked Justice Veerappa with folded hands.

Later addressing the prisoners, Justice Veerappa said that such prisoners who cannot afford to engage Lawyers, can contact the KLSA for any legal help. Noting that he has advised the jail authorities to address issues concerning amenities, he said that the prisoners in need can contact the KLSA for legal help by applying through the Jail Superintendent. After receiving the request, the KLSA will depute a lawyer to pursue the case of the concerned prisoner, he said adding that such prisoners who have engaged lawyers on their own, have to get information about their bail pleas from the concerned lawyer itself. He further said that the prisoners can change their lawyers after getting an NOC, if they are not satisfied with their work.

Justice Veerappa also had a word of advice for the prisoners saying that they should visit the jail library and red books on great leaders and other personalities, which helps a lot in leading a transformed, disciplined and lawful life after walking out of the prison.

Later Justice Veerappa told presspersons that he made a surprise visit to Mysuru Central Jail to have a reality check after several complaints were received about quality of food and lack of other facilities. Pointing out that over 800 prisoners are housed here when the Jail has the sanctioned capacity of 562, he said the Jail authorities told him that a new building is coming up to ease the pressure on the existing one. He further said that though Mysuru Jail was found lacking in certain facilities, it is far better than Kolar Jail.

KLSA Member-Secretary H. Shashidhar Shetty, Public Relations Officer Vignesh Kumar, Mysuru Principal District and Sessions Court Judge M.L. Raghunath who also heads Mysuru DLSA, Senior Civil Judge and DLSA Member-Secretary Devaraj Bhute, Jail officials and others were present.

In 2022, who will make it to Rashtrapathi Bhavan?

Names of Dr. Sudha Murty, M. Venkaiah Naidu, Nirmala Sitharaman, Ghulam Nabi Azad, Arif Mohammad Khan doing the rounds

New Delhi, May 29 (Agencies)- By July 24, India has to elect a new President. In October last year, President Ram Nath Kovind (whose five-year term ends in July 2022) turned 76. If the BJP applies PM Narendra Modi's "no appointment to a public office after 75 years" formula, it can be safely said that the party is currently hunting for a new man or woman to occupy Rashtrapathi Bhavan.

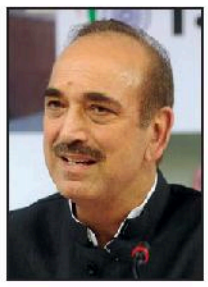
Amid all the speculations and names doing the rounds for its Presidential nominee, the BJP may nominate a candidate either belonging to the Other Backward Class (OBC) or a woman to win their support in the run-up to the 2024 general elections. The OBC and women are the largest constituents of the country's population.

The names doing the rounds are current Vice-President M. Venkaiah Naidu, former Infosys Foundation Chairperson Dr. Sudha Murty, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Kerala Governor Arif Mohammad Khan and former Union Minister Ghulam Nabi Azad.

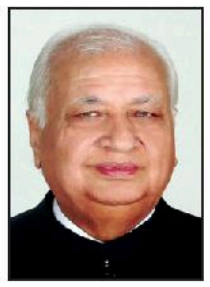
Dr. Sudha Murty

Venkaiah Naidu

Nirmala Sitharaman



Ghulam Nabi Azad



Arif Md. Khan

During the last Presidential elections, the BJP had given a chance to Dalits and OBC and this time, speculations are rife that either a woman or a candidate from minority community will be chosen for India's highest post.

Prominent among the names to the post of President is of Dr. Sudha Murty. A woman face, her candidature is expected to be popular thanks to her many philanthropic initiatives as the Infosys Foundation Chairperson. It may be mentioned here that during the last Presidential election, the name of Sudha Murty's husband and Infosys Founder N.R. Narayana Murthy was doing the rounds. However, that did not materialise.

Kerala Governor Arif Mohammad Khan, who has garnered national attention by constantly conflicting with the Pinarayi government, will contest for the post of Vice-President. The BJP is likely to project Arif Mohammad Khan as a minority face. Arif Mohammad Khan is a leader who can embrace the Hindutva stance of the BJP.

Other names are of Ghulam Nabi Azad and Nirmala Sitharaman. Azad has maintained a distance from Congress, his parent party, he is drawing closer to the BJP. Nirmala Sitharaman is a prominent women face in the Rajya Sabha and she is likely to be elected as Vice-President, knowing she can very well handle the proceedings of Rajya Sabha as the House Chairperson.

Party insiders said that among all the social equations, a Presidential candidate from the SC community is unlikely as current President Ram Nath Kovind belongs to the community. "It is most unlikely that a leader from the SC community will be given a chance this time. Among all, the OBC and women are most preferred right now for Presidential candidate," they said.

Notably, the OBCs are a major force in all the States. In the recent Uttar Pradesh Assembly elections, despite the exit of some OBC leaders from the party, BJP received overwhelming support from the community.

Both women and OBC are independently the largest chunk of voters in the country. The party will either woo them individually or together by nominating an OBC woman candidate for the post, party insiders added.

Over 24 stalls were set up for mango growers from Mysuru, Mandya, Ramanagara Chikkaballapur and Kolar, who have kept over 12 varieties of luscious mangoes on sale which are naturally ripened. The mango varieties that were put up for sale were Badami, Raspuri, Malagova, Amrapali, Imam Pasand, Sendhura, Dussheri, Mallika, Sakkaraguthi, Kalpahad and Baganapalli.

Though customers initially complained of high prices and not much difference in the prices of the fruits when compared to the open market, the farmers, convinced them that crop loss due to unseasonal rain, irregular flowering and decaying fruits had contributed to the price rise.

Customers were wooed by saying that they have not used any artificial methods or chemicals to ripen the mango but have followed the natural ripening process. Moreover, the transport cost has increased due to a hike in fuel prices.

Though many customers just looked at the varieties and did some window shopping while some made purchases of limited on select special varieties, the sales picked up later and 12 tonnes of mangoes were sold, which has brought smiles on the faces of mango growers and Mela organisers.

As customers began to throng the Mela on Friday evening, thieves had a field day and they lifted mobile phones of customers which forced the City Top Cop to deploy Police personnel in plain clothes at the Mela venue to put brakes on mobile phone thieves yesterday.

Parking fee

On the first day, the Horticulture Department began collecting parking fee from customers and following opposition from them, the collection of parking fee was dropped which resulted in people thronging the Mela venue. Department officials had to deploy staff to control the crowd.

The public were heard saying that it was better if parking fee was levied as it would have controlled the crowd. A team of officials and staff led by Horticulture Department Assistant Director Naveen Kumar have been deployed to supervise at the Mango Mela.

The Mango Mela, which concludes today, is open to public from 9 am to 9 pm.

Abracadabra... Abracadabra...

By K.B. Ganapathy

Guess who will be the President and Vice-President of India!

This morning I saw in one Kannada newspaper, a news originating from New Delhi, about the election of India's President and Vice-President as the term of incumbents will soon come to an end and the election to these two offices must be held before July 24th. The BJP Central Government is now engaged in a search for these offices.

Among the names making the rounds, according to the news, are Dr. Sudha Murty, Venkaiah Naidu (present Vice-President), Nirmala Sitharaman (Finance Minister), Ghulam Nabi Azad (of Congress) and Arif Mohammad Khan (Governor of Kerala). All familiar names and faces, also non-controversial. Of course, the final choice will be made after weighing the caste, religion and gender equations.

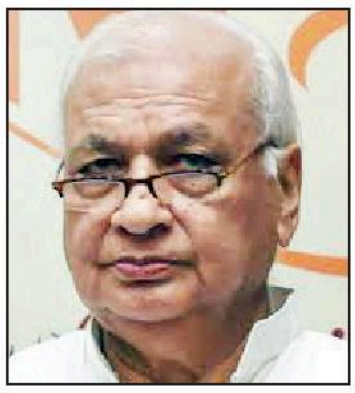
The reason for me to comment on this news in this Abracadabra column of mine is what I wrote on 11th October 2018 about Dr. Sudha Murty under the heading 'Eureka! The President of India 2022!" Here I had suggested her name for the presidency of our country due this year 2022. Alleluia! Today I read her name as one of the probables for the office!!

Well, of the five names mentioned above, in the speculative news for these two offices, my choice would be different from what I wrote in 2018 — Arif Mohammad Khan for President and Dr. Sudha Murty for Vice-President.

Be that as it may, I am reproducing my 11th October 2018 Abracadabra, with slight editing, for the reading pleasure of my readers. Happy reading!

When I first learnt of the Chairperson of Infosys Foundation Dr. Sudha Murty's choice to inaugurate this year's (2018) Dasara festival, I was delighted. She would go to the Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Hill, offer prayers and inaugurate the 10-day festival amidst religious fervour.

I have been observing her public service and creative outpouring by way of books and essays in English and Kannada for many years now.



Arif Mohammad Khan

Dr. Sudha Murty

I know that Sudha Murty gave up shopping for sarees, which was her obsession, after visiting Varanasi. As we know, it is the tradition and also a belief that on visiting the Holy place one should give up what is most dear to a person. Since she loved shopping, she gave up shopping thereafter. Hope, she has not returned to her old habit. After all, old habits die hard!

I find from my 40 years experience as a journalist that there used to be a few, if at all, dissenters about the choice of the chief guest for Dasara. The dissenters are usually from among the 'Rationalists' and 'Secularists,' the so-called keepers of the Idea of India! Happily and understandably, this year's choice was received with great deference from all sections of the people. She has name and fame as an accomplished author and social worker, academically highly qualified — BE, IISc., and M.Tech with gold! As the Chairperson of Infosys Foundation, she is a great philanthropist. A good cause never goes without the touch of her helping hand. With such a personality, our presiding deity Goddess Chamundeshwari had no problem of gender or age as with Ayyappa Swamy of Sabarimala in Kerala.

We must admire Siddharamaiah for getting Prof. Nissar Ahmed, the renowned Kannada poet, a Muslim, to inaugurate the festival in 2017. For once, I thought India has a great future as a Secular country. If only all minorities in India (with Hindu majority) are like Prof. Nissar Ahmed, a practising Muslim, who gets into the mainstream of a Hindu majority country without any personal problem, India is sure to remain a true Secular country, not a pseudo-Secular one as it is now.

Curiously, the BJP which made much noise during Siddharamaiah's rule for not choosing Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa, perceived to be a right-wing thinker, to inaugurate Dasara festival, had itself forgotten Dr. Bhyrappa during BJP's rule of five years from 2008 to 2013. Its choice fell only on religious heads — Seer of Siddaganga Mutt, Dr. Shivakumara Swamiji, 2008; Sri Sri Ravishankar of Art of Living Foundation, 2009; Dharmasthala Dharmadhikari Dr. Veerendra Heggade, 2010; Sri Vishwesha Theertha Swamiji of Pejawar Mutt, Udupi, 2011; Sri Siddeshwara Swamiji, 2012.

Surprisingly, Dr. Bhyrappa, who is often seen in BJP or right-wing functions, has benignly kept silent about this denial.

Now to revert to Dr. Sudha Murty, she does not seem to have produced any base metal in her life at all. Gold is her metal. Wonder if she is an Alchemist. Well, metaphysically speaking she seems like one. Whatever she touches becomes gold. A positive Midas touch. She says she published her first book in english at the age of 53 though she had written one in Kannada in 1979 after visiting America with a backpack alone when young and, I suppose, unmarried. I was reminded of Nirad C. Chaudhuri, who wrote his first book, 'An Autobiography of an Unknown Indian' at the age of 54 and became very famous in the world of english literature thereafter. Well, for a genius to bloom age is no bar. She admits that she was no good in writing books in english until the veteran journalist and author TJS George of Indian Express found potential in her and advised her to write in english.

Yesterday morning I was listening to an interview Dr. Sudha Murty gave to Mr. Abdul Rasheed of Mysore Akashvani after inaugurating the Dasara festival. It was simply beautiful. So beautiful and full of life's lessons I and my wife stayed glued to the transistor till the end. Being a gifted anchor of great talent and also an interviewer, Mr. Abdul Rasheed was able to draw out all that is wise and otherwise from her life experience. Every answer was a nugget. In its philosophical content it made me remember Marcus Aurelius, the Roman Emperor-Philosopher and his famous book 'Meditations'. Without sounding rhetorical or pedagogical nor like delivering a sermon from Akashvani studio, pearls of wisdom were rolling out of her lips. Here are some pearls I picked up and put in my mind's jewel box.

When asked what would be her message to our daughters who are facing problems including sexual assault, Dr. Sudha Murty had this to say:

"I would like to tell the girls that they have in them a great strength. Unfortunately, they are not aware of it. Some girls think because they are female they are weak, but I tell them they have more capacity than men. God has created them that way. A female child plays many roles — a daughter, wife, mother. They should not spend their time in fear and thereby miss the purpose of life. They should have self-confidence and grab the opportunities they get. They must develop certain skills to get jobs and try to learn something new every day."

To another question as to how a girl-child could become a creative writer like herself, Dr. Sudha Murty said that it should begin with the habit of reading books. We have to find out for ourselves what we should become in life. This cannot be told to you either by your husband, mother-in-law or father-in-law. Not even your sister or friends could tell you what you should become in your life.

Later, at the breakfast table I began to reflect on this interview and did a bit of cud-chewing. India had many Presidents since Independence beginning with Dr. Rajendra Prasad, a politician-intellectual. Then we had Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, a Philosopher-Statesman and another like him in Dr. Zakir Husain. How can we forget Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam? There were also some who enjoyed the position without leaving behind any mark or legacy.

And then, as if to atone for the sins, our politicians who could not bring in the much-touted and still pending Women's Reservation Bill in the Parliament, elected Mrs. Pratibha Devisingh Patil, a veteran Maharashtra politician, as the first woman President of India. A rubber-stamp President no doubt like some of her predecessors.

The next Presidential election will be in July 2022 when the present incumbent Mr. Ram Nath Kovind completes his five-year term. And once again as a penance for not passing the Women's Reservation Bill yet and to atone for the failure, why not elect Dr. Sudha Murty as our President? She would make a great President. Her public speeches would be similar to what we heard from Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam with the same social and humanitarian concerns that he displayed while in Office and even after demitting the Office.

Making school life colourful through illustrative paintings

A social initiative by NGO Upkriti gives a facelift for two Government Schools at H.D. Kote

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, May 29- Government Schools in H.D. Kote are getting a facelift, thanks to a Bengaluru-based NGO Upkriti whose volunteers have already painted two of them and have given them a new look. What has been ignored by the Government and the Education Department has been accomplished by a group of youth from their own funding.

H.D. Kote is one of the backward taluks in Karnataka with a good population of tribals and backward communities and lacks good infrastructure as most of the area comes under green cover.

Upkriti works on tribal community welfare projects and first, it took up the painting of Government Higher Primary School (GHPS), Gandhinagar in H.D. Kote and painted it on Feb. 5 and Feb. 6. On May 21 and May 22, they took up the painting of GHPS Gende Gowdara (GG) Colony and have completed this task too.

Both the schools had not seen a fresh coat of paint for decades and the painting task was taken up with the assistance and participation of the villagers. This way they have contributed to a better learning environment. Over 25 volunteers from Upkriti chipped in for painting the entire school in two days.

The volunteers include professionals like artists, automation engineers and operations analysts engineering students, advocates and software engineers and they beautified the schools with colourful drawings, landscapes and pictures of animals and birds. This was primarily done to attract students towards learning and enthuse them instead of being closeted in colourless and bland walls.

Complete makeover

The makeover included water-proof painting of walls, colouring the 'Nali Kali' classroom and donation of computers. The messages painted on the walls spread awareness about a girl child's education and also there are messages about social issues and morals.

Images of cartoon characters, freedom fighters, eminent personalities and animals like tigers and elephants were drawn on the walls of the classrooms and on the outside walls with social messages. The walls were coated in waterproof paint, after which volunteers created colourful murals.

"We have painted messages on child marriage, child labour and child rights. Child cartoon characters find a place on the walls of the classrooms so that a conducive learning atmosphere is created. The professional volunteers spare weekends and lend their service in painting and giving a facelift to the schools. Moreover, they do not expect money in return," said N. Chandan, Founder and President of NGO Upkriti.

In fact, when the Gandhinagar school was being painted, seeing the transformation, the GG Colony School Head Mistress Usha Kumari met the NGO members and requested them to give her school a facelift too.

The school has around 670 students from the first standard to the seventh standard. The school was constructed in 1982 and has five rooms. Along with the NGO, the villagers too contributed Rs. 25,000 to buy paints. After one coating of painting was done, the design and artwork were done by the NGO.

While philanthropists Balasubrahmanyan and Sawarnalatha sponsored the beautification work at both schools, volunteers Manasa, Darshan, Vikesh, Prakruthi, Kiran, Amrutha, Sashank, Varsha, Sharanya, Anu, Prarthana, Prateeksha, Shivam, Madhura, Haripriya, Ananya, Deepti, Tasmiya, Dhanusha, Suhas, Siddesh, Sayeema, Ashish and others pitched in their service.

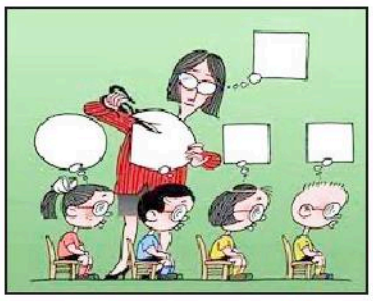
WORD OF THE DAY

Indoctrinate



Pronunciation: in-DAHK-truh-nayt.
Meaning: To teach (someone) to fully accept the ideas, opinions, and beliefs of a particular group and to not consider other ideas, opinions, and beliefs.
Origin: Indoctrinate means "brain-wash" to many people, but its meaning isn't always so negative. When the verb first appeared in English in the 17th century, it simply meant "to teach"—a meaning linked closely to its source, the Latin verb docēre, which also means "to teach." (Other offspring of docēre include docile, doctor, document, and, of course, doctrine). By the 19th century, indoctrinate was being used in the sense of teaching someone to fully accept only the ideas, opinions, and beliefs of a particular group.
Example: "Moreover, in a pluralistic society, parents from varied backgrounds want to know their children can receive a public education without being indoctrinated into a faith not their own." — David Callaway

THE ODD WORD

Ichthyonomy
Classification of fishes.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

I have not slept one wink

Meaning: I have not slept at all.
Origin: The notion of getting not even a single moment's sleep has been in the language since the 14th century. Robert Manning of Brunne, in his work Handlyng synne, 1303, records the phrase in Middle English:
"Ne mete ete, ne drank drynke, Ne slepte onely a-lepy wynke."
In language that is a little more accessible to most readers in the 21st century we have Shakespeare's use of the idea in Cymbeline, 1611:
PISANIO: O gracious lady, Since I received command to do this business I have not slept one wink.

It's GT Vs RR in IPL finals

Ahmedabad, May 29- Gujarat Titans (GT) and Rajasthan Royals (RR), the two sides who met in Qualifier 1 of IPL 2022, will lock horns today (May 29) in the final of the ongoing edition at Narendra Modi Stadium here.

Today, GT will be seeking to lift the IPL title in their debut season in front of their home crowds. They will face RR — the inaugural edition winners — in the summit clash, which will be spectated by around 100,000 fans inside the Stadium.

The Titans, led by the rejuvenated Hardik Pandya, have been most consistent franchise this season. They finished at the top of the points table with 10 wins and four defeats, and then beat RR by 7 wickets in Qualifier-1.

The Royals, on the other hand, had won nine and lost five at the end of the league stage, and outclassed Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) in Qualifier 2 less than 48 hours ago.
